SOCIETIES IN TRANSITION

1–4 September 2027

Florence, Italy

Welcome to EUGEO 2027

Dear colleagues,

The University of Florence, in cooperation with the Association of Geographical Societies in Europe (EUGEO), is pleased to invite you to the 11th EUGEO Congress on the Geography of Europe, to be held in Florence, Italy, from 1 to 4 September 2027.

EUGEO 2027 will bring together geographers and scholars from across Europe and beyond for four days of scientific exchange, discussion and networking.

The Congress welcomes the broad geographical community, across human and physical geography, as well as scholars from related disciplines engaging with geographical questions. Researchers at all career stages, including young scholars and PhD candidates, are warmly encouraged to participate.

Societies in Transition

The conference will bring together geographers and scholars from across Europe and beyond to discuss the spatial dimensions of contemporary societal transformations.

Under the theme “Societies in Transition,” the Congress aims to explore the complex processes through which societies evolve in response to economic restructuring, political change, cultural transformations, and environmental challenges. These transitions are not linear processes; they often involve tensions, contradictions, and uneven spatial outcomes.

EUGEO 2027 will provide an international platform for geographers and scholars from related disciplines to exchange ideas, present new research, and engage in interdisciplinary dialogue on the spatial implications of societal change.

Hosted at the Social Sciences Campus of the University of Florence, the Congress will take place in one of Europe’s most historically rich urban environments, offering participants a unique opportunity to reflect on geography, place and societal transformation.

Keynote Events & EUGEO OFF

Keynote Events

The EUGEO 2027 Keynote Events will bring together leading scholars from across the broad spectrum of geographical research. The programme will combine traditional keynote lectures, conversations and panel discussions, creating different spaces for reflection, dialogue and debate.

EUGEO OFF

EUGEO OFF will extend the Congress beyond the formal scientific programme through a series of social, cultural and networking activities, offering participants further opportunities to meet, exchange ideas and experience Florence.

Further information on Keynote Events, EUGEO OFF activities and the scientific programme will be progressively announced on the conference website.
